

A Shifty Story

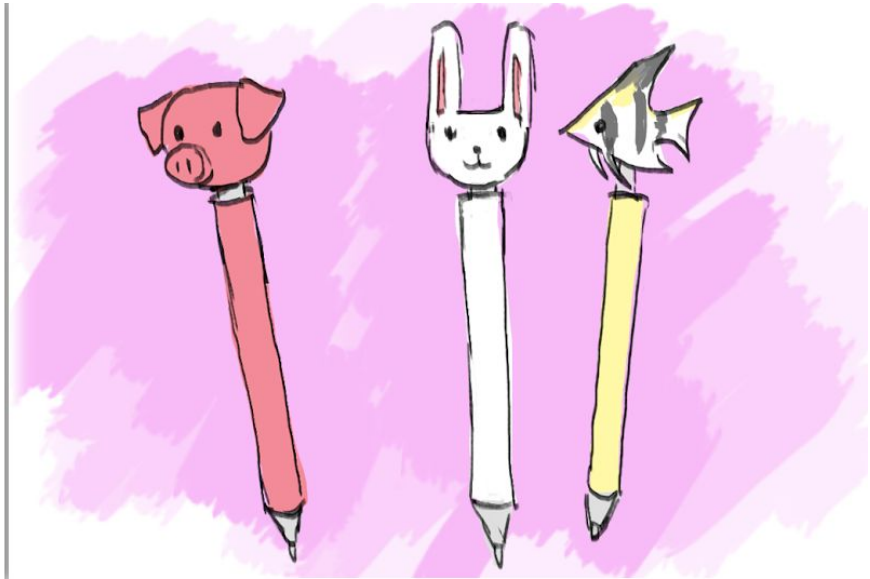

Once upon a time, there were three kids: Allie, Bobby, and Carrie. In the morning, they woke up feeling morose. They cheered up thinking about the patterns on their dresses though.

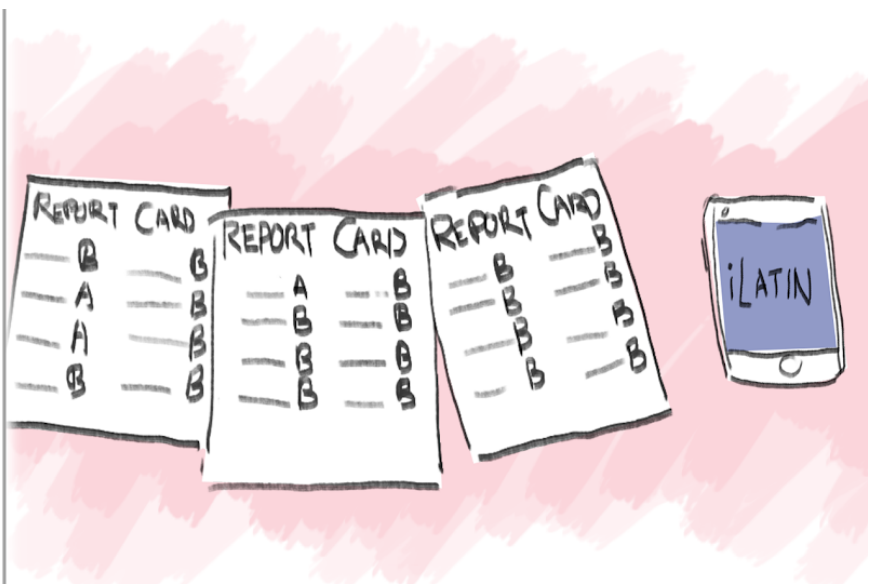

Next, the kids ate a breakfast of eggs, bread, milk, apples, and, most importantly, bacon.

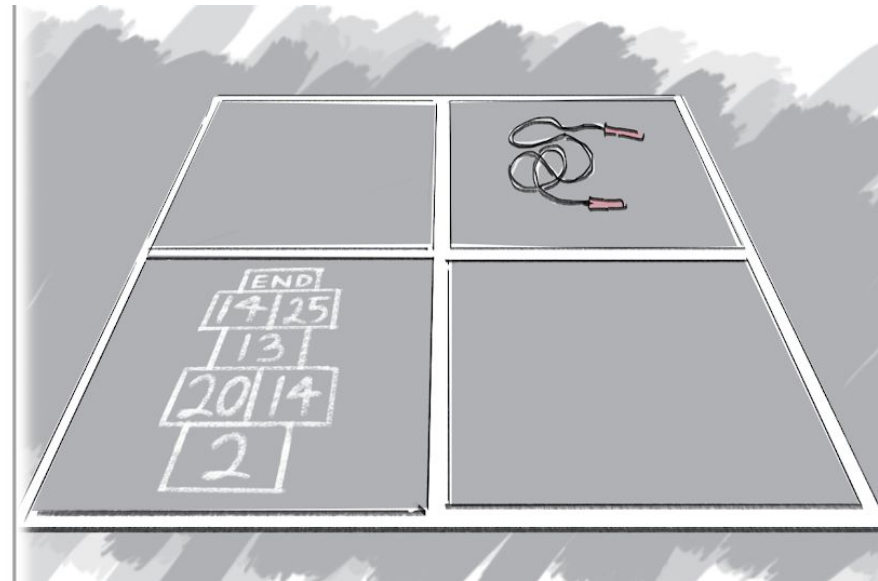

After breakfast, the kids brought out their special new pens.

Because they had scored poorly, the kids used a fine app called iLatin to study.

Next, the kids played four square.
Fortunately, there wasn't a queue to use the grid.

After playing, the kids wanted to eat caesar salad. Unfortunately, they realized that 22 of their ingredients had rotted. One of the upset kids drew this picture.

Finally, the kids went to the party. Some jugglers in semi-formal clothes performed.

The kids enjoyed the party, especially enjoying watching the dancing men there.

The background of the slide is a light blue color with a pattern of darker blue brushstrokes that create a textured, painterly effect. The text is centered on this background.
