

A Grand Tour

Last summer, I decided to take some time off and go for a ride around Europe. Along the way, my tour guides introduced me to some friends of theirs who seemed like they were trying to disguise their profiles. In addition to pictures from a number of stages of the trip, I kept a log of who we met - they all had some pretty colorful shirts!

Trip Log

Raffaele and Cosimo introduced me to their amici, who taught me to relish the beginnings as I depart. Jacques and Vincent introduced me to their amis, who taught me to appreciate the journeys, making sure to revel in the high-points along the way. Ramon and Valencia introduced me to their amigos, who taught me to look forward to endings, and to enjoy the destination once I got there.
